Mercury Tumbles to 27 and 28 Below Zero

No Immediate Relief Seen From Cold Wave

Arctic Blast Numbs Ohio, Eastern Section of Nation

Brrr!
It was mighty cold early this morning. In fact, still is, and the weatherman promises no immediate relief from the Arctic blast that has swept into the United States from Canada.

A low reading of 27 degrees below zero was recorded at the Salem sewage treatment plant northwest of town at 8:30 a.m. today but the lowest reading was 28 degrees at Peace Valley Park on the East Palestine-New Waterford Road. It was minus 26 at the Lisbon waterworks station.

Below zero readings were commonplace this morning in practically every adjacent Columbiana and Mahoning County community. It was 18 below at Millport, south of Kensington, where Edwin Copeland maintains an official station for the government.

He said it was the coldest day since December, 1958, when a similar low was recorded.

Most towns and cities had minus readings ranging from two below to 12 below, whereas the thermometers in the lower outlying areas dropped into the "deep freeze" zones.

Lisbon village had 12 below. In East Liverpool it was minus 4. Many of the temperatures are expected to be equalled again tonight or Thursday morning as the severe cold wave continues.

Sub-zero temperature readings came from every corner of Ohio. One weather reporting station at Greenville in Darke County listed a mercury reading of 18 below, and the official U. S. Weather Bureau survey at 7 a.m. had readings ranging from 13 below in Columbus, 11 below at Toledo and 3 below in Cincinnati.

Listings for other areas included 1 below at Chesapeake, 6 below at Marietta, 11 below at Zanesville, 10 below at Mansfield, 8 below in Akron, 5 below in Bellaire.

Baby Killed, 6 Hurt In Traffic Collisions

An 18-month-old baby was killed and six other persons injured, one seriously, in two accidents on area highways Tuesday.

Cindy Shoemaker, 18 months, of Woodworth, near Youngstown, died at 5:25 a.m. today in Youngstown South Side Hospital of brain injuries received in a two-car collision at 4 p.m. Tuesday on the Western Reserve Rd., two miles south of Canfield.

Her mother, Mrs. Jean Shoemaker, is in serious condition at South Side with possible fractures of the right knee and right hip, lacerations of the right thigh, possible fractured pelvis and ruptured bladder.

Both were passengers in a car operated by Melvin M. Shoemaker, 36, the husband and father, of 422 Russell Ave., Woodworth, a Mahoning County community just north of North Lima. He received lacerations of the right hand.

The State Patrol said the Shoemakers were going east on the Western Reserve Rd. when their car went out of control and was struck on the right side by an auto driven by Alan Lee Radler, 13, of Box 194, Washingtonville, who was traveling west. Radler received a possible fractured nose and a laceration of the right leg.

The Shoemaker baby, who died this morning, suffered an acute brain concussion, brain lacerations and a fractured skull.

Both vehicles were demolished. The Patrol is still investigating.

Crash on Salem Grange Road
A Salem man and three members of a Robertsville, O., family were brought to Salem hospitals with injuries in another accident on the Salem Grange Rd. (Twp. Rd. 830), a half-mile east of the Rt. 9 intersection at 5 p.m. yesterday.

Harold D. Koons, Jr., 22, of RD 3, Salem, was taken to the Central Clinic with a laceration of the lower lip and contusions of the mouth.

Treated at Salem City Hospital were Marjorie J. Beery, 35, of Robertsville, laceration of the right knee and contusions of both elbows; Thomas Berry, 12, multiple laceration of the head and face; and James A. Berry, 6, fractured lower left leg. The Beery boys were retained at the hospital where they are in fairly good condition.

The State Highway Patrol said a panel truck, operated by Mrs. Berry, and a car, driven by Koons, turned to MISHAPS, Page 8

White House Physician May Be Woman

WASHINGTON (AP)—The next White House physician may be a woman, Dr. Janet G. Travell of New York.

Announcement of her appointment is expected within a day or two.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Tuesday Kennedy's choice for personal physician would not be from the armed forces. He refused to comment further.

It has been almost 40 years since a president has selected a nonmilitary doctor as White House physician. There never has been a woman in the post.

Dr. Travell is credited with curing Kennedy of severe back trouble which bothered him for a number of years.

She reportedly discovered Kennedy's left leg is slightly shorter than his right and that this contributed to the back trouble. It was corrected with a lift in the left shoe.

A graduate of Cornell University Medical School, Dr. Travell has practiced in New York City since 1926. She is married to John Powell, an investment counselor. They have two married daughters.

There were two other proposals Tuesday to eliminate the use of stamps or meter impressions in

Jobless Claims In Ohio Show Decrease

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Continuing claims for unemployment compensation in Ohio showed a decrease today for the first time in months.

The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation said the claims of those unemployed one week or more dropped from 221,788 in the week ended Jan. 14, to 215,869 in the week ended Jan. 21.

The number of claims of unemployed began to rise last fall. Last Oct. 8, for instance, the total was 105,183 and the figure has been rising steadily since.

Of the 5,919 decrease in the total claims, 3,394 of the drop came in metropolitan districts.

A decrease was noted also in the number of new claims filed in the week of Jan. 21 — down from 28,241 to 26,147.

Battle of Tax Stamps Starts Again In Ohio

GOP, Dems Head For Showdown on DiSalle's Budget

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The battle of the tax stamps has started again, but for the moment at least the Ohio Legislature's attention is focused on tonight's Republican - Democratic showdown on the state budget.

Finance Director James H. Maillon appears tonight before a joint session of the Senate and House finance committees to discuss the double-barreled question: Why did Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle submit an unbalanced budget bill to the Republican - controlled General Assembly—and does he have the right under the law to do so?

Submitted Bill Week Ago
DiSalle submitted an appropriations bill a week ago calling for state spending in the next two years of about $74 million above anticipated revenue, but he made no suggestions as to possible new sources of tax money. Controlling Republicans probably will decide after tonight's session whether to sponsor the unbalanced budget or offer one of their own.

The Democrats have indicated Minority Leader James A. Lantz, D-Fairfield, will introduce the governor's bill Thursday if the GOP leadership fails to act.

There was one Republican sponsor to a bill introduced in the House which would abandon the use of sales tax stamps, a proposal DiSalle tried to push through a Democratic - dominated legislature two years ago and failed. The Republican sponsor is Rep. Fred Cassel of Carey.

Religious and charitable groups strongly opposed abandonment of the stamp-receipt plan two years ago largely because it automatically would end Ohio's unique stamp redemption system, a plan adopted more than 20 years ago to help enforcement of the tax by encouraging buyers to demand their stamps when making a purchase.

DiSalle won a partial victory in 1959 when he succeeded in getting the redemption rate cut from 3 per cent of the face value of the stamp system is unnecessary and succeeded in eliminating the issuance of stamps in connection with the sale of automobiles.

Those moves now are being challenged in the courts. The governor contends the stamp system is unnecessary and costly. He estimates its abandonment would save $11 million a year.

There were two other proposals Tuesday to eliminate the use of stamps or meter impressions in

JFK Prepares Sombre Message to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy was reported today to be preparing a sombre recital of world and domestic conditions in a State of the Union message he will deliver to Congress Monday.

Associates said the President feels Congress and the country should be given what he regards as a realistic appraisal of turbulent global conditions and a hesitating economy at home.

Democratic leaders with whom Kennedy discussed the message at a White House conference Tuesday said they expect him to cover the Congo, Laos and other world trouble spots and to discuss mounting unemployment at home.

They anticipate Kennedy will follow this up with a series of messages outlining specific legislative proposals and suggesting changes in the $80.9-billion budget former President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent Congress Jan. 16.

Bigger Steel Coils Produced By Bliss Company Equipment

The U.S. Steel Corporation's McDonald Mills near Youngstown can now meet customer demands for steel coils up to 30,000 pounds, as the result of new equipment designed and furnished by the Salem Rolling Mill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co.

The accompanying photos show (at top) the McDonald plant's new coil welding line, and (bottom picture) Joseph Carney, a shipper at the mill, indicates the size comparison between a new and old coil. The increased size—four times that of the old—is made possible through use of the plant's new coil welding line installed by the Bliss Co. The larger coils permit considerably less down-time for their handling and processing in U.S. Steel's customers plants.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

Children Lose When Mothers Work

Commenting on a recent column that urged obedience as an important safety factor in the prevention of childhood accidents, a very wise high school girl asks the following question:

"Do you think it's worthwhile for a mother to go to work and leave her children with a baby sitter when the money she earns is just about enough to pay the extra expenses that she would stay at home?"

"I baby sit four days a week with two children aged 7 and 4 years," she explains. "Their mother, who goes to work, told me she wanted them to mind and even be spanked if necessary. However the parents rarely spank."

"They tell the children to do a thing but never see that it's done. As a result, the children do not pay attention."

"The mother admits it is easier, when she has time off, to give in to the children rather than to make them mind."

"The younger used temper tantrums to get his way until I cured him. Since the mother really doesn't increase the family income, if all expenses are considered, don't you think she might do better to stay home and give the children the companionship and discipline they need?"

I DO NOT for a moment cast reflection on many brave mothers who must supplement the family income for current expenses or their children's higher education. However I must say that I have known altogether too many instances in which younger mothers, in particular, take jobs merely to escape what they consider the drudgery of housekeeping and child care.

As my prematurely wise young correspondent has suggested, the family income is not significantly benefited if additional expenses are deducted from the take-home pay check. For example, one must deduct such things as the salary of the baby sitter, transportation to and from work, meals and snacks eaten outside of the home, and the additional costs that go for clothes, cosmetics and other trimmings.

Angel Food Nuggets

One 6-inch angel food cake, 2 cups sifted confectioners sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 6 tablespoons milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla or rum flavoring, 1 1/2 cups ground Brazil nuts, 1 1/2 squares (1 1/2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate.

With a fork break angel cake into 24 pieces about 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Beat sugar, salt, milk and vanilla until smooth; mixture will be thin.

Dip 12 pieces of the cake into frosting, scraping off excess into bowl; roll in half the nuts. Melt chocolate over hot water; cool; gradually stir into frosting left in bowl.

Dip remaining 12 pieces cake into chocolate frosting; roll in remaining nuts. If frosting becomes too stiff to manage, beat in a little milk. Allow frosted cake pieces to set on waxed paper.

Applesauce Raisin Bread

1 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar, 2 eggs, 1-3 cup shortening (melted) 1 cup applesauce, 1 cup raisins, 1 cup regular or quick-cooking rolled oats.

Sift together all the dry ingredients into a mixing bowl. Add remaining ingredients; stir just until well mixed.

Turn into greased loaf pan (about 9 by 5 by 3 inches). Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 1 hour.

Turn out; cool entirely on wire rack before slicing. A cracked top is "normal" for this loaf.

Fresh Pear Salad

6 large ripe fresh Bartlett pears, 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice, 2 packages cream cheese, 3 ounces each, 1/4 cup crumbled Roquefort or Bleu cheese, 2 tablespoons milk, Salad greens.

Wash pears, cut in half and remove cores. Brush cut sides with lemon juice. Combine cream cheese, Roquefort or Bleu cheese and milk. Mix well.

Pack the mixture into pear cavities. Put each two halves together and wrap in foil. Chill several hours or overnight.

Just before serving, cut into quarters and place on lettuce or other salad greens. Serve with French dressing.

Bliss Role In the Economic Picture

It probably was read as a routine story by many persons several weeks ago when the E. W. Bliss Co. announced that it would concentrate its metal-working press business in Hastings, Mich., and Salem. Almost simultaneously Bliss announced that its main offices would be established at Gateway Center in Pittsburgh, instead of Canton.

It was more than routine yesterday when disclosure was made that two big orders had been received for automotive presses to be built at the company's Rolling Mill Division in Salem. Both are for major Detroit area manufacturers and are to the tune of more than $1 million each.

Bliss' local division is an important operation for the company and also for our community. With 570 persons at work in the local factory on three shift, six-day week schedule, and a backlog of orders that will keep the industry humming for the year that lies ahead,

Bliss is one of the strongest links in our fortunate industrial diversification.

Bliss' success is the result of a good name known in industry the world over, an aggressive sales effort by Vice President George Perrault and his staff, skilled craftsmen and a company desire of "partnership" with other manufacturers who are trying to make products better.

Bliss' position is more enviable than some other Salem plants at the moment but if gears are being set in motion in the Motor City for new production it ought to reflect itself in time in area shops which are hungry for orders.

Too many persons of authority in the nation appear to be sitting around waiting for someone to press a magic button and, presto, the show will go on. What we need are brighter lights of optimism to dispel the economic fog that has dulled our senses.

That's the challenge facing America today.

Only One Door Not Opened

It is tempting to believe the Kennedy administration might find a way to seek agreement with the Communist bloc that never has been tried before.

That has been the wishful thought behind summit conferences — that a top-level meeting might reveal some area of agreement never discovered by diplomatic underlings.

But there is only one door never opened by the negotiations that have died a-borning since Communist expansion after World War II revealed that cold war would follow the hot war.

Before the door could be opened, there would need to be a revolution in thinking about peace, not only in the United States but in every nation depressed by the terrible prospect of atomic warfare.

UP TO NOW, peace has been a never-never-land bliss to be enjoyed if men and governments would quit plotting violence. It has been like a dream of what a wonderful friend the grizzly bear could be if it would behave like a giant panda, instead.

It has been an alternative to the thoughts and attitudes of war — an international euphoria in which everybody loved everybody else and the exceptional belligerents had nothing to look forward to but discipline if they stepped out of line. That was the intended structure of the United Nations — a brotherhood of peace-loving nations ranked against occasional hot-heads who might run amuck.

Unfortunately, the brotherhood of peace-loving nations never materialized.

The United Nations has done better than anyone could have expected it to do under the handicap of internal friction, but it has not secured peace.

This is why there must be a revolution now thought if the United States opens the hitherto unopened door that might reveal a new approach to international agreement.

INSTEAD OF thinking about a state of bliss in which the United States might save billions by disarmament agreements, men will have to think about a state in which the United States will spend billions to make war impossible. It is already committed to that policy. That is the significance of its enormous military budget.

It is spending its money for weapons that will not be used if the policy succeeds. It is depending on massive armament to avert attack by the only other nation with enough armament to carry out an attack.

Similar amounts of money spent on ways to relieve suspicion of attack might stabilize the armament race. These would be ways to provide certain knowledge of unusual military preparations, if they were made, and certain knowledge that they were not being made if all parties to armament control were being faithful.

They would be ways like the open-skies proposal, once made by Dwight Eisenhower. They would be ways mutually satisfactory to all potential military powers to relieve themselves of the dread of destruction.

THIS WOULD NOT mean that all armament would be scrapped. It would mean that all armament would be brought under such precise control that fear of attack after a secret military buildup could be eliminated from the cause of international tension.

If there is going to be a breakthrough — a new door opened — this will be it. The armament race will be put under tight control, not to save money, not to pursue the will-o-the-wisp of unattainable peace, but to give the human race security from its 20th century nightmares of fusion and fission.

A Quiet Day At Gettysburg

The press associations, always alert, will keep watch at Gettysburg Dwight Eisenhower is still a public figure.

Contrary to a general impression that he will retire, the probability is that Mr. Eisenhower will travel abroad extensively and continue to work at his crusade for peace.

Yet, relieved of the involuntary routines imposed on presidents of the United States, Mr. Eisenhower will be his own man for the first time in half a century. No one will be trailing him. He will not be awaiting urgent telephone calls. The Secret Service will not be his 24-hour-a-day companion.

He can walk alone. He can play golf without wondering what Walter Reuther, one of his severe critics on that score, will think about it. He can talk to a friend at leisure, without watching the clock to stay within a schedule set up by his appointment secretary.

If he wants to, he can stand with his chin on a corner post and look at a Hereford steer for 20 minutes. He can pick up a newspaper and read about the problems of the presidency without feeling guilty. If he has the impulse, he can blow himself to a glee of laughter someday when it becomes plain that problems he was blamed for not solving aren't being solved by his successor, either.

Mr. Eisenhower as a private citizen with the prerogatives of a retired president is unique. He is not back at Gettysburg because he was defeated for office. He is not back home because he couldn't win. He is there because the rules of the government have put him there. His official work is done.

He has earned his quiet days as truly as President Kennedy has earned the tumultuous days that lie ahead of him. It is as engrossing to think about one man as the other on this beginning of a new experience. But for all of us who are aware of the significance of a half century of public duty on Mr. Eisenhower's part, his situation is more dramatic.

The countryside around Gettysburg is beautiful. It is covered with snow. The Eisenhower farm lies snug and serene in its Pennsylvania setting. A man is walking from the house to the barn. He is walking at a pace that suggests his soul is at peace with his surroundings. Cincinnatus, the consul, has come home. His duty to his country has been done.

Once Over

We like the name "Disturbia" instead of "Suburbia" for some small towns. It is coined by Richard and Katherine Gordon in book, "The Split-Level Trap," picturing suburban tensions and trials as conducive to heart failure, ulcers and high blood pressure.

Indifferent government, smugness toward taxpayers' complaints, commuting harassments and worries over taxes, crabgrass, etc., break many a man down, the authors say, and they are not wrong.

Ye ol' lives in a small Connecticut town. The taxes are among highest in the country. The main highway is under water through poor drainage more often than in Indian days, city services are incredible, and, despite budget of millions, City Hall won't buy a broom, modern trashcan or adequate "No Littering" signs.

It has given us ulcers nervous collapses, hardening of the arteries, general irascibility, fallen arches, galloping gray hair (if any) and a dangerous touch of madness.

WOMAN BANK OFFICIAL in an Iowa town is charged with embezzling $2 million over a long period, without anybody suspecting loss of a dime. Maybe the bank examiners thought a careful check would, in case of a woman, lack gallantry.

Townpeople are springing to the gal's defense with statements that she had kindly disposition and was very charitable to all causes. The fact it was with other people's money isn't emphasized.

All reports say that Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower moved out of White House with little trouble but we are still betting that Ike's last words to missus were, "I still think I left an iron club around the building somewhere."

Ex-Gov. Ribicoff, new head of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, voted against the creation of such a department when he was congressman. He was alarmed over super government at that time.

WHY DRAMATIC REVIEW READERS GO MAD

"If you feel need of getting yourself cheered up, I suggest a visit to 'The Conquering Hero.' The songs are frisky, inventive and funny." —John Chapman.

Inspiring Inaugurals

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Ceremonies Inspiring, But Memories Short

All inaugural ceremonies are inspiring, and the addresses usually produce a thrill and widespread approbation. But memories are short. How many people can recall what happened even as recently as the first Eisenhower inauguration? Here is a dispatch by this writer just eight years ago:

An unforgettable inaugural... The transfer of authority... Solemnly and yet with a spontaneous cheer... Echoes of a triumphant election conducted by the people freely... Few places on earth where such freedom prevails.

The outgoing President participating and showing loyalty to free institutions... The new President taking the oath... "To preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution." A kiss first for the first lady and then a prayer of dedication.

Now the inaugural address... The people packed in the streets before him... The sun casting its warm glow... The words coming clear over the great esplanade on the East Front of the Capitol... Heard also around the world through radio... The ceremony itself seen by millions through television... In the presence of the Senate, the House, the Supreme Court, the diplomatic corps.

A message of hope, of high purpose and of resolution. One excerpt tells it all — the way to inevitable peace:

"To produce this unity, to meet the challenge of our time, destiny has laid upon our country the responsibility of the free world's leadership. So it is proper that we assure our friends once again that, in the discharge of this responsibility, we Americans know and observe the difference between world leadership and imperialism between firmness and truculence between a thoughtfully calculated goal and spasmodic reaction to the stimulus of emergencies."

"We wish our friends the world over to know this above all: We face the threat — not with dread and confusion — but with confidence and conviction."

THE APPLAUSE rings out... for those few words proclaim the new policy — "a thoughtfully calculated goal" and not the opportunism of "spasmodic reaction" to recurrent crises reminding us of our lack of firmness to meet the first crisis.

"Never," he adds, "must we be proven guilty of the one capital offense against freedom, a lack of staunch faith."

The phrases are pregnant with meaning... Implicit rather than explicit, but penetrating thoughts just the same... Especially significant the sentences: "We must be ready to dare all for our country... We must be willing, individually and as a nation, to accept whatever sacrifices are required of us... We must acquire proficiency in defense and display stamina of purpose."

Firmness, strength, steadfastness, courage, bravery... A readiness to face the bluff of the Russian tyrant with the moral force of our united peoples... The goal is clearly pointed out — the winning of the peace.

MEMORIES of other inaugurations... Jan. 20, 1949, when Harry Truman stood there humbly and without rancor... Jan. 20, 1945, when Franklin Roosevelt wasn't able to go to the Capitol but stood on the White House balcony... His face haggard and pale... His cheeks sunken as his son James lifted him to the pedestal to speak the inaugural message... Less than 90 days later the President was dead.

Back to March 4, 1933, when the same man in vibrant phrases, with strength of voice and body, said, "The only thing we have to fear is fear itself."

Back to March 4, 1913, when Woodrow Wilson, with the finest phrases of them all — not a word written for him — spoke his message of inspiration as the Democrats took over for the first time since 1897... A span of 16 years.

Then, on March 4, 1921, when a Republican took over again... Woodrow Wilson, victorious leader in World War I but now enfeebled... unable to walk to the front of the Capitol... Bidding his successor, Warren Harding, good luck in the vice president's room where the outgoing President had come to sign last-minute bills... Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, the elder — archfoe of the League of Nations and of Wilson — standing near by... the cold look that Wilson gave him... the polite, deferential Harding helping the broken Wilson to his feet... Harding taking the oath a few minutes later alone on the East Front, happy, hopeful, solemn.

MEMORIES, too, of William H. Taft as he said farewell at Union Station on March 4, 1913... A reporter asking him what he would miss most... "Ah," he said, "the power, the power of the presidency..."

Thoughts of Truman... The power he had... The power he bestowed on all our presidents... They little realize sometimes that it is temporary and transient... The true power is with the people, to repudiate them or enshrine them... Wondering if we will be patient, unpartisan, tolerant till we see,

Act of Piracy

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Every red-blooded American boy at one time dreams of being a big bold pirate. So, in our opinion, does every red-blooded middle-aged American man.

The seizure in the Caribbean this week of the Portuguese luxury liner Santa Maria by 70 passengers inimical to Portuguese Premier Salazar startled the world.

It held special interest to students of pirate lore because it took place in the same waters once scoured by Blackbeard, perhaps the most villainous freebooter of them all.

But, on closer examination of this rebellion at sea, we must admit to a feeling of personal let-down. After all, it was a political act, done by a group for a political purpose.

It holds none of the high adventure promised by our own fondest daydream — which is to hold up the giant Cunard liner Queen Mary single-handed with a carved wooden gun. (We insist on a wooden gun as the sight of blood makes us faint, particularly if it is our own.)

Over the years we've met dozens of other people who yearned to rob the Queen Mary, but most of them are lazy.

They haven't taken the trouble to think up a foolproof plan. We have. Here it is:

We board the great liner as a passenger and when it reaches a certain point at sea we surprise the captain in his cabin with our trusty little wooden gun and hold him hostage.

Then we have the captain summon all his officers to the cabin and lock them in. Next, we ax all the radio equipment so no alarm can be spread.

It is now time to rifle the ship's strong box, and we figure it ought to hold three—maybe five—million bucks.

Later, we are lowered into a launch, holding the captain as hostage, and speed to the horizon where a hidden submarine awaits us. We board the submarine, and leave the captain free to return to his ship in his launch.

The submarine sails off to a remote South Seas island, where we found a dynasty, build a palace, and live happily and wealthily ever after with a harem of 45 native girls.

There is only one reason this daydream has never come true. Our wife refuses to lend us the money to rent a used submarine. Every time we ask her, she says: "No, I won't. What in heaven's name do you want to hire a submarine for?"

Think we could tell her the truth? Of course not. She'd blab it all over the community by nightfall, and then half our neighbors would want to get into the act—and share the loot.

That won't do. Either we're going to pull this job single-handed—or we're not going to do it at all.

Matter of Fact

In 10,000 years, Chicago, Berlin and Moscow will be buried in ice. Cold periods occur every 40,000 years. These cycles will continue, say scientists, until the earth's great mountain chains are weathered down to hills. Then the seas will roll in over the flatter land. With great water surface, the earth will absorb more of the sun's heat—and the long cycle of ice ages will end.

Capacity and Production

By RAYMOND MOLEY

During the 1960 campaign for the presidency, much was made of the fact that the steel industry was operating at one half its capacity.

The implication was that this meant a depressed economy, unemployment, and general distress but there is no more reason to draw such inferences from capacity figures than there is to blame the government for building so many ships for war that in peacetime some of them are put in mothballs. The extra capacity of the steel industry is a reserve to be used in a war or other crisis.

To use that capacity up to, say, 80 or 85 per cent would be economically indefensible. When such a high point of production is reached, extra shifts are required, much overtime is necessary and the normal or routine maintenance of the furnaces becomes extremely costly.

Under normal conditions, a furnace can be shut down, allowed to cool, and then rebricked. But when operations are at anything like full capacity, special contractors must be called in to tear out the interiors of furnaces while they are still glowing hot. Under trying conditions, they must work around the clock to get the old firebrick out and the new in. This is very costly.

THE CHANGING technology of the steel industry has resulted, at the beginning of this year, in a change in the reporting of production.

With a Little Luck

By TRUMAN TWILL

There was this little girl the other day whose mother was asking about the lambs at the Twillery — when they would be born and all, and suddenly the calendar took on new meaning for both the little girl and me.

We have Groundhog Day, Valentine Day, the statesmen's birthdays and lambs in February. If all has gone well, we have lambs starting in February, that is.

Having lambs is like jumping off a moving freight train. No one can pinpoint anything. You get off along a stretch of scenery. You have lambs beginning sometime and going on indefinitely.

Last year all the lambs but the last one were born during the worst weather of the winter. They thought the world they had been born into was the color of an infrared lamp, because that was all they saw for the first month.

Every night they would form a circle as big as the circle of light from one of these remarkable bulbs and stay there until dawn. It was the roughest weather the Twillery every registered for lamb birthing.

Everything about the birthing last year was unpleasant, and if it were to be as bad a few years running as it was in 1960 the Twillery flock would be abandoned. That would be ironic, because the wool business in the United States now is in the midst of a comeback.

Thanks to a costly advertising campaign, Americans are learning to believe "American Woolens" are ultra-desirable. "English Woolens" were made famous through advertising, but this country flubbed its chance to sell its own wool.

It has promoted everything that can be used for clothing, except homegrown wool. If someone came out with a new fiber manufactured by a process of boiling whole sheep and getting something almost as good as wool, there would be a market created for it by advertising. It was time American woolens got a break.

But to get back to the lambs... Their mothers will look expectant about a month before it's time for them to be born. Then, one morning there will be a couple of white strangers in the flock. That will be the warning.

From then on, nature will take the course that was laid out for it five months before. Some days there will be no lambs. Some days there will be so many maternally caes cooking that the job will be to keep the mothers from adopting the wrong children.

That is the trickiest thing about hit-and-miss lambing — to keep the mothers and their lambs from getting mixed up. The instant there is doubt there is trouble.

Doubt is common among young and skittish mothers. Old-timers can sort out a mess of lambs as if they were reading the right names off identification tags. But inexperienced mothers get panicky. The sheep business in the United States will be under a handicap until someone gets rid of inexperienced mothers. It usually takes one birth to show them how to behave and handle their problems. A few know how the first time, and a few show no signs of learning — ever.

But, all things being equal and with a little luck when the die was cast five months before, the lambs will be born beginning the last week in February and ending later. It was June last year before the last one was born, though the rush season had ended in the middle of March. December romance, you might say.

will be the overriding issue in the 1961 session.

Dirksen and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the House minority leader, agreed to meet weekly with four colleagues from each house to map Republican strategy.

Dirksen indicated that Eisenhower will be called on for advice when Kennedy suggests changes in the defense budget the former president submitted. He said former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, and others will be called in when issues come up with which they are familiar. Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, the Republican national chairman, will serve the conference as its presiding officer.

Weather

eight below in Youngstown, 6 below in Chillicothe and 12 below in Findlay.

In Cleveland the temperature dropped to seven below to equal the low mark for this winter established there Dec. 23. Cleveland's record low for a Jan. 25 is 15 below set in 1897.

The Weather Bureau said a mass of high pressure air centered over Illinois and Missouri this morning will dominate Ohio's weather today and tonight, and that low pressure forming over Colorado will bring light snow to Ohio Thursday.

Bitter cold temperatures are predicted again for tonight, but the weathermen say that some cloudiness is expected to hold them above today's early readings. High temperatures today and Thursday will range from 10 to 16 degrees.

In the extended five-day forecast, the weather experts predicted the cold to continue, averaging 10 to 15 degrees below normal. Some moderation is expected Saturday and Sunday. Occasional snow flurries or light snow near Lake Erie are forecast for the whole period, with light snow south and central on Thursday and again during the weekend.

Primary and secondary Ohio highways are generally partly snow-covered to slippery in spots in the northeast and southern parts of the state.

Secondary roads have the same conditions in the west and central portions. Balance of the state's roads, with exception of a few scattered slippery spots, are reported normal.

The severe cold numbed the entire northeastern half of the nation. Many southern areas shivered and skidded in freezing rain, sleet or snow and a possible major ice-snow storm threatened the Gulf states.

The frigid weather in the north, with temperatures far below zero, extended from the Plains to the Atlantic Coast. Readings ranged from zero to more than 20 below in Midwest areas and from zero to 10 below from the eastern upper Great Lakes to New England.

Cold wave warnings were in effect over most areas from the southern half of the Plains into Virginia and the Carolinas. Near-zero weather edged into Kentucky and northern Virginia. The freezing belt covered areas southward into the central Gulf. Southern Florida escaped the chilly weather.

No immediate general relief from the season's longest and coldest weather appeared likely. However, some moderation was expected in the below-zero temperatures in some Midwest sections.

Stamps

connection with the collection of state excise taxes.

One, sponsored by Rep. A. G. Lancione, D-Belmont, would discontinue the familiar meter impressions on cigarette packages indicating the Ohio tax of five cents a pack has been paid.

The other, by Rep. Theodore R. Boring, D-Vinton, proposes to discontinue state tax stamps on bottled beer, wine and mixed beverages.

Another Perennial Appeared

Another legislative perennial made its appearance Tuesday—a proposal to require semiannual inspection of motor vehicles at a top $1.50 fee. Inspection stations would be licensed by the state and motorists would be required to remedy defects within 20 days. The proposal by Rep. Thomas J. Barrett, D-Mahoning, also would require inspections of all vehicles involved in accidents. If adopted, the law would be effective in July 1962.

Another proposed safety measure would give township trustees authority to regulate the speed of vehicles in areas outside municipalities where they now control parking.

Drivers Fined For Overload Offenses

Truckers carrying excess cargoes of hogs and frozen pies were "snagged" by the city scales here Tuesday.

Robert R. Updegraves, 30, of Valley View, Pa., was fined $51 and costs by Mayor Dean Cranmer when his truck was found to be 2,600 pounds overweight. He was hauling a load of frozen pies. Howard Wayne Acheson, 24, of Delphi, Ind., was fined $73 and costs because his load of hogs was 4,800 above the axle weight limit, and Floyd L. Burch, 25, of Hoopstown, Ill. $55 and costs because his load of hogs was 3,000 pounds too heavy.

Two other overload cases heard by the mayor were: S. C. Short, 26, of Hanoverton, $25 and costs, and Earl Lescalleet 31, of Hagers-town Md. $25 and costs.

RESERVOIR NEARLY FULL
WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — The 100 million gallon reservoir of Clinton County Water Co. is nearly full and the firm says it has stopped pumping from auxiliary sources. A spokesman reported Tuesday the company has dismantled its overland pipeline to State Lake Cowan from which it has drawn supplies to offset a critically low water level that developed last month.

PIRATE—Enrique Galvao, 60, led the pirates who seized the Portuguese luxury liner Santa Maria with 600 passengers in the Caribbean.

mand, paused Monday off St. Lucia, one of the Windwards, and sent ashore eight crewmen, including one wounded severely by gunshot in the battle for the ship.

Messages from the Santa Maria this morning handled in an exchange with an RCA station at Chatham, Mass., were "All well—don't worry" assurances from passengers to their homefolks.

A Navy spokesman at San Juan headquarters directing the search for the Portuguese liner said a radio fix had been obtained on a ship 500 miles southeast of Barbados that "might be the Santa Maria."

A check of that area proved fruitless.

Hunt Moves North

At dawn the hunt moved north. The Neptunes, long-range reconnaissance planes, were under instructions to determine the position, course and speed of the ship. British radio monitors expressed belief the Santa Maria was on a course toward Angola. This is about 5,000 miles across the Atlantic from the West Indies.

U.S. and Dutch planes and American and British surface craft took part in the search for the liner—seized on the high seas with the avowed aim of starting ouster of Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, Portugal's ruler for 33 years.

From the trim multimillion-dollar liner, the rebels broadcast a triumphant "mission accomplished" to the master mind of the daring plot, Gen. Humberto Delgado.

On Delgado's Orders
Delgado, who fled into exile after he charged the Salazar regime robbed him of the presidency in the 1958 election, disclosed at Sao Paulo, Brazil, that the 70 men who seized the Santa Maria were acting on his orders as head of the National Independent Junta of Liberation.

The 54-year-old general appealed to the United States and Britain to call off their pursuers. "The Santa Maria case does not represent mutiny or piracy but is an appropriation of a Portuguese transport by Portuguese men for Portuguese political purposes," he said in telegrams to American Ambassador John Moors Cabot and British Ambassador Sir Geoffrey Wallinger in Rio de Janeiro.

Capt. Henrique Malta Galvao, the swashbuckling soldier-playwright-politician who led the band that captured the Santa Maria, broadcast a warning his men would resist any attempt to retake the ship.

"We will not surrender in any case," Galvao pledged in a message to Delgado. "We follow our secret destination and salute your excellency, the chief of state elected by the people."

Reported Everything Normal
Galvao reported everything normal among the 600 passengers, who include at least 38 Americans. He said the crew of 360 had "accepted the occupation as fait accompli (a fact accomplished)." But one ship's officer was killed and several wounded in the battle that accompanied the seizure of the ship.

A flood of "safe and well" and "don't worry" messages from the American passengers were broadcast to their families ashore by the ship's radio.

The Santa Maria, with fuel for 20 days, was openly seeking a port of sanctuary in its cat-and-mouse race with ships and planes trying to track her down. Galvao messaged Delgado he would "disembark the passengers at the first neutral port that gives us that possibility without confiscation."

The United States and Britain launched the search on an appeal from Salazar, their ally in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, who denounced the seizure of the ship as piracy. A State Department spokesman in Washington said the United States was acting "under the well-defined terms of international law governing piracy and insurrection aboard the ship."

But a U.S. Navy spokesman in San Juan said the two American destroyers hunting the liner had orders to stop and search her only if they apprehend her on the high seas.

"We can do nothing if she moves into any nation's territory."

ial waters," the spokesman said. A source in Lisbon predicted that if Galvao manages to land anywhere on Portuguese soil with Delgado, he will proclaim the formation of a new Portuguese government and appeal to all democratic and socialist nations to recognize its rights.

"He may even do it from aboard the Santa Maria," the source said, "and probably Soviet Russia would respond to the appeal."

Bugs Bunny 'Voice' Hurt In Car Crash

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mel Blanc, the man with a thousand voices known to millions, was in critical condition today, suffering from multiple injuries resulting from a head-on collision that demolished his car.

Blanc, the voice of Bugs Bunny and Woody Woodpecker, received compound fractures of both legs and head lacerations Tuesday night when his hardtop sports car collided with an auto driven by a college student.

Attendants at the UCLA Medical Center said he would undergo leg surgery.

Blanc, 51, was pinned in his car and had to be freed by police and ambulance attendants. The accident occurred on Sunset Boulevard, not far from the UCLA campus.

Arthur Rolston, 18, driver of the other car, suffered only minor knee injuries. He is a student at Menlo College.

Police said Rolston's car went out of control on a curve and hit Blanc's after crossing the center line.

Blanc's vocal creations have ranged from the impertinent "What's up, doc?" of Bugs, the roguish rabbit, to the wheezing and hacking of Jack Benny's ancient Maxwell car.

Mishaps

collided almost head-on just over the crest of a hill on the narrow Salem Grange Rd. The Patrol said both cars were left of center. There was no arrest.

Both vehicles were damaged extensively.

A Columbiana County sheriff's cruiser was involved in a non-injury accident at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday on Rt. 164 in Gavers.

The cruiser, driven by Deputy Sheriff James L. Miller, 34, of Salsville, collided with a car operated by James R. Horn, 19, of RD 1, New Waterford.

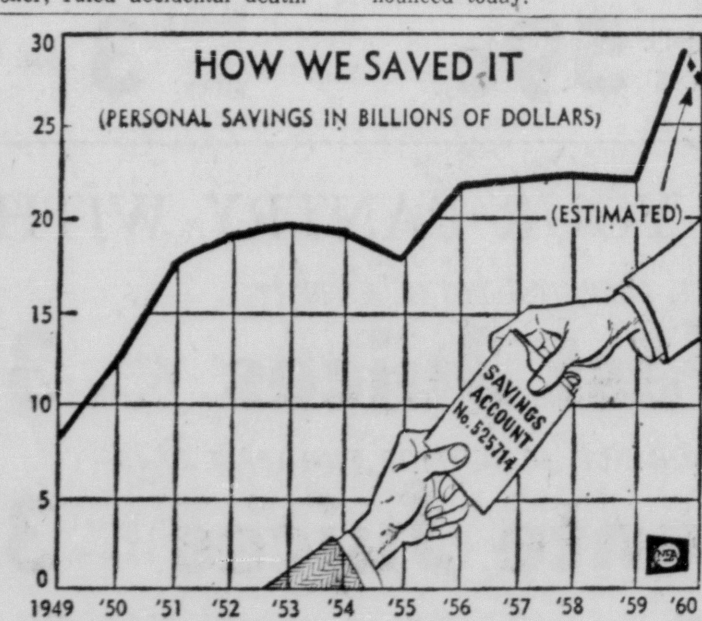

The Patrol said Horn made a left turn into the path of the cruiser, which received considerable damage. The right side of Horn's car was also damaged.

Horn was cited for making an improper left turn.

GUN BLAST KILLS MAN

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The discharge of a shotgun fired accidentally caught Clayton Chaney, 22, in the chest Tuesday night and killed him. A friend, Dale Hofbauer, 24, of Rossford told police he had been fingering the hammer of the 20-gauge weapon owned by Chaney, when it discharged.

The two were in Chaney's trailer home in suburban Oregon. Dr. Robert Swindaman, assistant coroner, ruled accidental death.

INTO THE MATRESS — Personal savings in the U.S. climbed from 8.5 billion dollars in 1949 to 29.2 billion in the third quarter of 1960. Dips represent recession periods. Last quarter, 1960, will probably fall. Data: Commerce Dept.

Leetonia Democrats To Complete Slate

LEETONIA — The Democratic men's and women's organizations, which met Tuesday night at the American Legion Home to form a slate of candidates for the May primary, have scheduled another session to complete the slate Friday at 8 p.m. in the Legion Hall.

The cold weather held down attendance last night, impeding the selection of nominees.

Following the session, the Democratic men elected temporary officers as follows:

President, Frank Citino; vice president, James Ciminelli; secretary-treasurer, Daniel Butch; and trustees, Clarence Wooley, William Navojosky and Floyd Crawford.

Permanent officers will be named following the general meeting Friday.

American Field Service Group Is Organized

A Salem group was present at an organizational meeting of the tri-county Southeast Ohio District of the American Field Service Monday night at Liberty High School in Trumbull County.

They included Mr. and Mrs. George Emery and Mrs. William Grimm, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rogers, Mrs. Richard Cook and Mrs. Arthur Vaughan.

The American Field Service has brought a number of foreign students to this country to study, including Helle Gade Jensen of Denmark, who is a senior at Salem Senior High School.

Mrs. John Miller of Liberty Township was elected chairman of the tri-county group.

and the Atlas-Agena-B missile and satellite combinations.

NASA said there was no timetable for such an experiment. It will depend on the Lockheed study and the availability of funds.

If the experiment is successful, a NASA spokesman said, huge space ships also could be boosted into orbit in sections and then assembled for use in deep space probes.

If everything works out as NASA hopes, a series of inns for space explorers, or tourists, ultimately could be assembled in an ever-expanding series of concentric orbits around the earth.

Country Captain of India

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
How did Country Captain, a chicken dish with a delectable reputation, get its name? No one could ever tell us.
So we searched American cook books of an earlier day until we found the explanation in "Miss Leslie's New Cookery Book" (published in 1857. Miss Leslie wrote: "This is an East India dish, and a very easy preparation of curry. The term 'country captain' signifies a captain of the native troops, (or Sepoys,) in the pay of England their own country being India, they are there called generally the country troops. Probably this dish was first introduced at English tables by a Sepoy officer."
The recipe for Country Captain that has been treasured for more than 50 years is the one given by Alexander Filippini, famed chef of New York's old Delmonico restaurant, in his 1906 "The International Cook Book."
Here is our version of the Filippini recipe. Of all the chicken dishes we have adapted, this is the prime favorite.

Country Captain
1 broiler-fryer, ¼ cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ cup butter, 1 medium onion (finely diced) 1 green pepper (finely diced) 1 clove garlic (crushed) 1½ teaspoons curry powder ½ teaspoon dried thyme, 1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes, 3 tablespoons currants, blanched toasted almonds.
Coat chicken (cut in 12 pieces) with flour mixed with salt and pepper. Brown in skillet in butter; remove. Add onion, pepper, garlic, curry powder and thyme to skillet; stir over low heat to get up drippings. Add tomatoes. Bake chicken with sauce, uncovered in moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 minutes or until tender. Add currants 5 minutes before done. If sauce gets too thick add a little water or stock. Serve with almonds and steamed rice. Makes 4 servings.

To make holders for tiny candies, use empty thread spools dipped in either silver or gold paint and sprinkled with sequins before they dry.

Barbecue Bean Casserole Served Indoors

Why shouldn't we take advantage of our skills and treats of outdoor barbecuing year round? As entertaining moves to the indoor porch, living room or family room, the foods which have enjoyed summer popularity can be served indoors. There's no convenience food better suited for this purpose than canned barbecue beans, the new food item which brings compliment after compliment from all who have tasted it.
Serve canned barbecue beans with a bit of cut up hard salami and mustard.
2 tablespoons minced onion, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 can (1 pound) barbecue beans, ½ cup hard salami, diced or cut in strips, ½ teaspoon dry mustard. Cook onion in butter until tender. Add beans, salami, and mustard. Heat, stirring now and then. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

A Sweet Delectable Austrian Dessert

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Call it a frothy whip, as the English sometimes do. Name it an omelet soufflé, a la the French. Or say this dish is a Salzburger Nockerl from Austria. By any name it's a delectable dessert that is a cross between a pancake, omelet and soufflé.

We first tasted the sweet in a small Viennese restaurant in New York late one evening when a friend from Vienna set out to acquaint us with what he considers the perfect light snack.

When the Salzburger Nockerl was brought in on an ovenproof platter it looked like a great half-moon of fluffy ivory-colored omelet sprinkled with confectioners' sugar and surrounded with vanilla custard sauce. One spoonful of the airy stuff and we were ready to wait off to whatever Elysian fields appreciative diners go to. If you want to try a strictly American version of Salzburger Nockerl, the following recipe will be your guide. This rule turns out a dessert that is a bit more substantial than its famous ancestor—a change that may help you to concoct and serve it easily. Don't be fazed by the directions to turn the pancake-omelet-soufflé out of the pan. If it gets balky, loosen the edges with a spatula. But be careful not to cut into the puffy affair or it will fall before you serve it.

Dessert Puff With Sauce
1 package 4 ounces butterscotch pudding and pie filling mix, 2 cups milk, 3 eggs (separated) ½ taste or 2 teaspoons dark rum, salt, 6 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, ¼ cup pecans (chopped)

Stir together in a saucepan the pudding mix and milk; cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat.

Mix ¼ cup of the pudding with the slightly beaten egg yolks reserve for the puff. For the sauce mix the remaining pudding with the cream and rum chill.

Prepare the puff by beating egg whites and a dash of salt until soft peaks form. Gradually beat in sugar continue beating until very stiff peaks form.

Fold in the pudding-egg yolk mixture. Melt butter in a 10-inch skillet with removable or oven-heat-resistant handle.

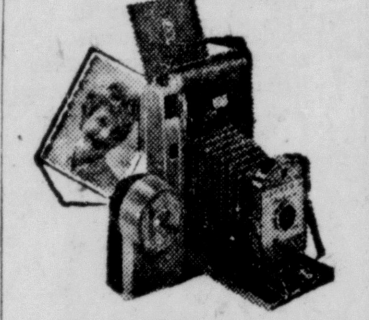

Turn puff mixture into the hot skillet. Cook over very low heat 3 minutes, then bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 15 minutes or until puffed high, lightly browned and firm to the touch.

Skillet Kraut

1 can (about 1 pound) sauerkraut, 2 tablespoons margarine, 1 cup thin strips onion, 1 cup water, ¼ cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar, 1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar, ½ teaspoon salt.

Drain sauerkraut. Brown onions in margarine in large skillet. Add drained sauerkraut and remaining ingredients. Simmer, covered, until water has evaporated and flavors have blended. Makes 4 servings.

Chicken a La China

1 broiler-fryer (2 to 3 pounds ready-to-cook weight), water and salt, 1 onion (peeled and halved) ½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate, 8 large sprigs parsley. Have chicken whole; wash and drain. Cover chicken and giblets (but not liver) with water in a kettle and add ¼ teaspoon salt and the onion.

Bring to a boil; cover and boil 15 minutes. Allow to stand off heat 30 minutes or longer if desired. Remove chicken and serve hot or cold.

Add monosodium glutamate and parsley to stock and boil rapidly until reduced to about 1 quart. Strain and skim. (To remove fat easily, chill stock so it will harden at top.)

Stock may be used as the base for Egg Drop or another kind of soup.

Pear and Apple Betty

2 cups soft whole wheat or white bread crumbs, ¼ cup butter or margarine, melted, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 3 cups tart sliced apples, 3 cups sliced firm Bartlett pears, ¼ cup boiling water, Whipped cream for garnish (optional)

Combine crumbs and butter or margarine. Add sugar, nutmeg and lemon rind. Sprinkle 1-3 of the crumbs in the bottom of a greased 1½-quart baking dish over which place apples. Cover with ¼ of the remaining crumb mixture. Then, top with sliced pears. Sprinkle with the rest of the crumbs. Cover and bake in a preheated moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Uncover and bake 20 minutes longer or until fruit is tender and crumbs are brown. If desired, top with whipped cream.

West Branch Five Blasts Winless Jackson-Milton, 81-40

Dick Loudon Pours In 31 Points As Warriors Cop 10th Victory

Full Court Press Befuddles Blue Jays, Helps Snap 18-18 Tie In 2nd Period

It was Dick Loudon night at Jackson-Milton last night. The veteran, 6-1 senior rang the bell for 31 points in leading the West Branch Warriors to a rousing 81-40 victory over the host Jackson-Milton quintet of Coach Chet Tellow.

The victory for West Branch was its 10th in 11 games. The winless Blue Jays suffered their 12th straight setback. The tilt last night did not count in the Turnpike Conference standings since the two clubs meet again later in the season at Damascus.

Underdog Jackson-Milton made a game out of last night's affair for the first 12 minutes. West Branch led by four points, 16-12, at the end of the first period but the Blue Jays battled back to deadlock the score at 18-18 early in the second quarter.

WEST BRANCH then put on its vaunted full court press and the Warriors immediately started pulling away. Loudon took charge for West Branch, pouring through 14 points in the second period. "Dandy Dick" was hitting on his pat-

Youngstown North Jars Lowellville

The Lowellville Rockets lost their fourth game in 11 starts when they bowed to a tall Youngstown North cage quintet, 60-46, last night on the winners' home boards.

After trailing throughout most of the first half, Lowellville cut the deficit to 39-37 at the three-quarter mark. However, in the final eight minutes, the Youngstowners made their big height advantage pay off as they outscored the Rockets 21-9 to win going away.

High point man for North was Green with 22. Jim Dovich with 15 and John Hvidsak with 14 paced the losers. North held Lowellville's high scoring Chuck Scia-vello to just two points last night. Scia-vello had been averaging 14.2 points per tilt.

The victory for Youngstown North enabled the Bulldogs to even their season record at 6-6.

North also capped the reserve fray, 37-34.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

The first beaver reported taken in Columbiana County was brought in by Don Barnes of Lisbon and Ray Lawrence of Toronto. It weighed 42 lbs.

This does not mean it was the first one taken but it goes in the record book as being the first one officially sealed as legal for more than 100 years.

The largest beaver taken so far weighed 48 lbs. It was taken by Charles Lohman of Salineville in Beaver Creek, Franklin Township. The smallest weighed 9 lbs. Probably would have made a nice pet if taken alive.

A FEW BEAVERS trapped had lost toes, no doubt having been tangled up in a muskrat trap. One beaver had lost all his toes and part of the front foot.

I think all the trappers who skinned out the pelts will agree they are "boogers" to skin. One pelt brought in had white fur on the belly. All the rest were a beautiful mahogany brown and in excellent condition.

There are an estimated 400 beavers that inhabit this county which would mean about 75 different colonies. So far, only 17 have been brought in.

As was predicted, all the beaver dams, lakes and most of the streams were frozen over and the trappers could not get at them.

If this is true it is reasonable to assume that there will be another trapping season in Ohio. This remains to be seen as the Wildlife Council makes the final decision regarding such matters.

THE PRICE the beaver pelts bring will have to be determined between the seller and the buyer. I have my doubts that anyone knows the fair price for a beaver pelt trapped in Ohio until it reaches the fur market. The size, manner in which it was skinned and taken care of, and the condition of the pelt should establish the value.

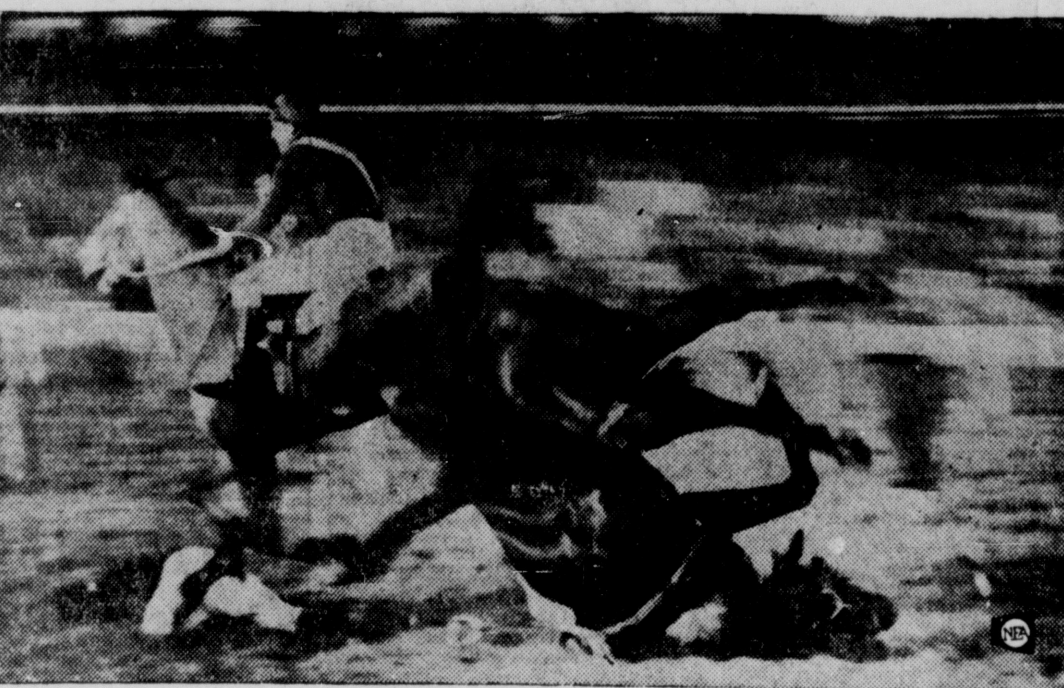

Driving through Washingtonville, I saw my first robin this winter. I don't know if he is a winter robin or a summer robin but one thing was sure—he was all robin. I have very little time to bird watch but I usually notice anything that flies or moves when making my rounds.

JUNCOS, SOMETIMES referred to as "snow-birds," can be seen by the dozens. When all activity seems to be halted by other birds and animals, the Juncos are as active as ever. They strip the seeds from any blade of crab grass sticking up above the snow.

During the winter they feed almost entirely on weed seed. In the summer they devour numerous insects along with wild fruit.

Unbeaten Stanton Local Rips Salineville, 81-63

Salineville High gave powerful undefeated Stanton Local of Iron-dale all the basketball it could handle for three periods before running out of steam in the final quarter and losing 81-63 last night at Salineville.

The win for Stanton Local was its 13th in a row. The Irons are ranked eighth in the Associated Press Class A poll this week.

SALINEVILLE SUFFERED its seventh loss, compared to five victories. The defeat snapped a three-game winning streak for the Indians.

Stanton Local had posted a 66-48 victory over Salineville early in the season, but Coach Dick Jones' Indians have come a long way since that setback.

Stanton Local was forced to go all out to win last night. The Irons played the entire game without a substitute while Salineville made one change in the final minute of the fray.

BIG DON "WILT" SPIRES was red hot for Stanton Local, pouring 35 points through the net. The All-Ohio candidate boosted his average for 13 games to 21.5.

Salineville's Ronnie Giannone took over the scoring lead in Columbiana County by pumping in 29 points last night. The 5-8 senior sparkplug now has 209 points in 12 games. He was all over the floor last night, causing trouble for the Irons.

Jack Baker, like Giannone, had his best scoring night of the season last night. The 6-1 junior letterwinner popped in 21 points for the Indians.

Stanton Local also won the reserve game, 43-29.

Holcomb Out As I.U. Director

2 Former Indiana Stars Considered

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — With Northwestern's Stu Holcomb out of the picture, Indiana University officials today resumed their hunt for a new athletic director to succeed retiring Frank Allen.

The Northwestern athletic director, former head football coach at Purdue, conferred twice with Northwestern president J. Roscoe Miller Tuesday and then announced he would stay at his present post.

There was speculation Holcomb might have been offered something less than a free hand when he visited the I.U. campus Monday. There also was a certain coolness among alumni who dislike anything connected with Purdue.

"Mr. Holcomb is one of several we have been considering and have interviewed," Allen said, "all are outstanding men."

Names mentioned in "public speculation" included two former Indiana football stars Jim Trimble and Don Veller, along with Ernie McCoy, Penn State athletic director, and Ray Eliot, assistant athletic director at Illinois.

Paper Cites Robinson's Balk at Playing First

CINCINNATI (AP) — Frank Robinson, slugging Cincinnati Red-leg, stormed near an indefinite suspension last April over the first base job he hates, according to the Cincinnati Enquirer.

In today's editions, sportswriter Bill Ford said former general manager Gabe Paul cleared up the matter which erupted in his office just 24 hours before the National League season was to open.

Ford said Robinson, told by Manager Fred Hutchinson he would start at first base, went to Paul who upheld his field boss. Robinson stormed to the office door, Ford said, but was recalled by Paul who cautioned him on what might happen if he walked out on the Reds and suggested he talk the matter over.

Robinson, 25, signed for 1961 Tuesday with the Reds' new boss, Bill DeWitt. When asked about the session with Paul last April, he said:

"I didn't like to play first base and I haven't changed my mind one bit. I'm an outfielder. I signed as an outfielder."

Would he balk again this year at playing first?
Robby nodded.

Would he balk if a pay hike was included?

"Well, that's a different story," said Robby.

Robinson started on first base last season and later shifted to the outfield after the Reds brought up Gordon Coleman.

Warriors Bow To St. Louis

Hawks Hold Wilt To Mere 15 Points

By The Associated Press
Stop Wilt Chamberlain, and there's a good chance that you can beat the Philadelphia Warriors.

The St. Louis Hawks did that Tuesday night — limiting Wilt to 16 points — and emerged with a 114-112 victory over Philadelphia. The triumph was the Hawks' 11th straight at home while the loss was the Warriors' sixth in a row on their current road trip.

Elgin Baylor clicked for 56 points — his highest output at home since the Lakers moved to Los Angeles — as the Lakers turned back the Syracuse Nats 116-107. In other games the Boston Celtics whipped the New York Knicks 125-112 and the Detroit Pistons edged the Cincinnati Royals 106-104.

Chamberlain's production was his lowest in regular season play for a full game.

Guarded mainly by Clyde Lovellette and Woody Sauldsberry, Chamberlain collected four of his 16 points in the final moments as the Hawks avoided fouling him.

Bob Pettit's 37 points were high for the Hawks.

Baylor, who set the all-time NBA scoring record of 71 points earlier this season against New York, collected 14 points in the final quarter to break open a close game.

Bob Cousy connected for 19 of his 33 points in the third period to spark the Celtics to their success over the Knicks.

Detroit staged off a late Cincinnati rally for the Pistons' sixth consecutive victory over the Royals. Jack Twyman scored 17 of his 37 points in the final period to trigger Cincinnati's futile surge.

Baron Gattoni will battle Billy Parks in the 8:30 opener. A crowd of 2,736 fans paid to see last Friday's wrestling show in Canton.

BOWLING

Jim Jackson knocked the pins around for a 596 series on games of 194-192-210 to set a hot pace for bowlers in the Ten Pin League at Saxon Lanes last night.

Jim Steward came up with a 581-196-204-181 and Jerry Colaiizzi notched a 567-169-205-193. In single games, Bill Milhoan had a 235; George Ehrhart, 213; and John Weaver, 212.

In the team totals, Leetonia American Legion rolled a 2651 series and Y-Bar registered a 912 team high single.

In the Mixed Foursome League, Carl Barnard led the men with a 593 while Betty Viola's 506 was the top score turned in by a woman. William Wagner had a 549; Jerry Brady, 544; Barb Zeigler, 463; and Edith Stepanic, 462.

Single game highs were William Wagner, 233; Coy Castle, 208; and Carl Barnard, 208 for the men and Betty Viola, 182 Barb Zeigler, 176 and Edith Stepanic, 170 for the women.

M & M Market posted a 701 team high single and Flying "B" came up with a 1940 team high series.

Leroy Votaw's 577-206 just nipped Bob Bailey's 576-212 for high series honors in the Deming Co. League at Timberlakes.

Dan Krichbaum Stars at Wooster

Ex-Salem Cager On First Five As Frosh

WOOSTER, O. — The jump from high school basketball to Ohio Conference basketball is a big one. Few make it.

Dan Krichbaum, a freshman from Salem at The College of Wooster, did.

When practices began at Wooster the 5-10, 150-pound yearling soon took the eye of Coach Jim Ewers. When it came time to select his starting line-up for the first game, Krichbaum was given a guard spot.

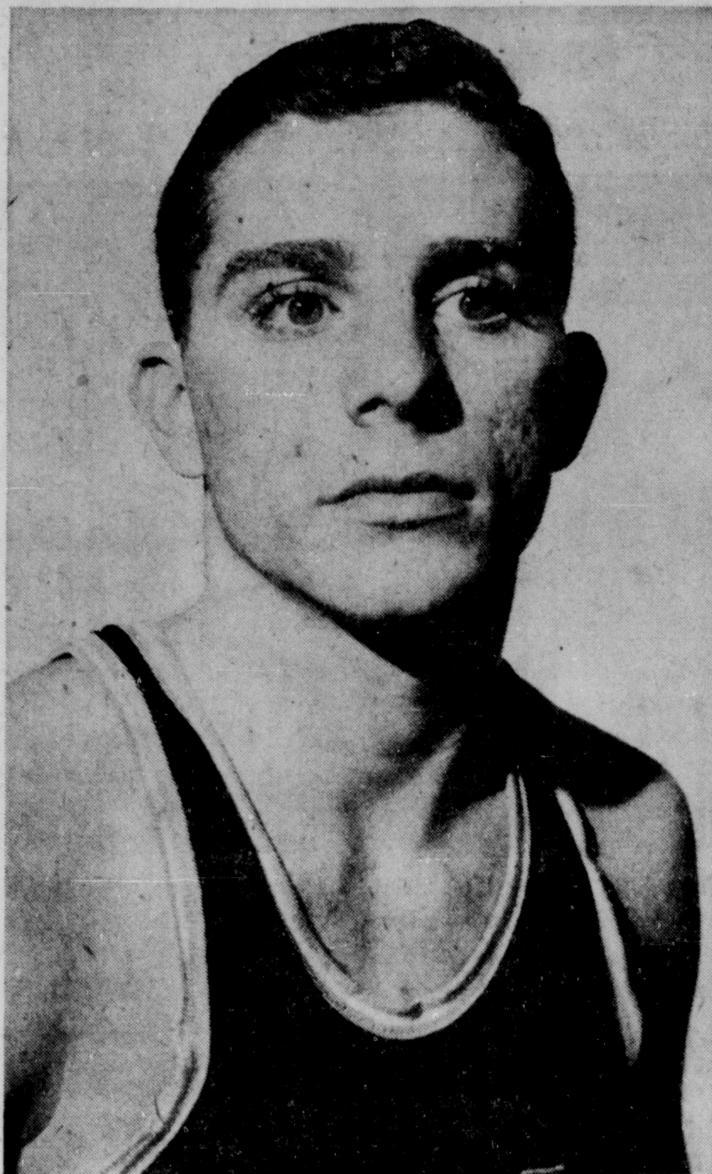

And his play has been of such high calibre that there is little chance that anyone will dislodge him.

To help the Scots win nine of 11 games, with an eight-game winning streak going, Krichbaum is the second highest scorer with 152 points. His average is 13.9 per game. In the last three games he scored 22 points against Muskingum, 21 against Bluffton and 14 last Saturday when Wooster upset the Akron U. Zippers, 78 to 67.

Shooting from the field, he has made 65 of 150 for a fine 43 per cent. From the foul line, Dan has canned 22 of 32 shots for 68.8 per cent.

At Salem High Dan was a standout in both basketball and track. While in high school, he had the distinction of going to the state finals in both sports. He played three years of varsity basketball at Salem, including two seasons as a starter.

With the Quakers, Dan was known for his leadership ability as well as his all-around talent in athletics. He was voted Salem

Dan Krichbaum

High's most valuable basketball player last season. Dan was tabbed by many observers in Salem as the finest defensive guard ever produced by that perennially powerful basketball school.

In track Dan was a standout performer in the 440-yard dash. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Krichbaum of 793 E. 6th St., Salem.

Bolsters Shortstop, Catcher Posts

Lane Trades 2 Fielders For 5 Oriole Players

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Trader Frank Lane has turned to the Baltimore Orioles and come up with five players in an effort to strengthen the Kansas City Athletics at shortstop and catcher.

In his first deal as the A's general manager, Lane shuffled outfielders Russ Snyder and Whitey Herzog off to Baltimore.

The A's got catcher Clint Courtney, outfielder Al Pilarcik, first baseman Bob Boyd, pitcher Jim Archer and infielder Wayne Causey.

In addition, Lane said, the A's will option an unnamed player to the Orioles' farm club at Rochester in the Class AAA International League.

"This is the type of deal

we needed to make in order to start spring training respectably," Lane said.

Prior to the deal, the Athletics had only one shortstop, Dick Howser, a rookie who played last season with Shreveport of the Southern Association. As catchers, they had Haywood Sullivan, with limited and undistinguished major league experience, and Bill Bryan, a rookie up from Class D.

Lane expressed hope that Causey, 24, will push Howser for the shortstop job. As a bonus player, Causey spent 1955 and 1956 with the Orioles. He has been in the minors since then because of weak hitting.

Courtney, 33, has been in the majors eight years. He batted .228 in 154 times at bat last season as second stringer to Gus Triandos. Of the other three obtained by the A's, Pilarcik, 30, is the only one conceded a chance to play regularly. He batted .247 in 194 trips last season.

Lee MacPhail, president-general manager of the Orioles, said his main problem has been the outfield and we acquired two fairly young outfielders who could help our ball club. I had both of them in the Yankee chain and have a great deal of respect for their ability and desire to play."

Snyder, 26, is one of the fastest runners in the league. He hit .313 in 1959 but fell off to .260 last year. Herzog, 29, was benched by Snyder, 26, is one of the fastest Aug. 17, but his physician has said the operation was a success. Despite intense pain he batted .266.

MacKay Scores 8-5 Win Over Gonzales

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Dayton's Barry MacKay moved into a first place tie with Pancho Gonzales and Andres Gimeno in Jack Kramer's touring professional tennis tournament Tuesday night. The former Davis Cupper, playing before a hometown crowd, downed Gonzales 8-5.

In other matches Alex Olmedo dumped Earl Buchholz 8-3 and Gimeno lost to Lew Hoad 8-6. The three leaders have won six of 11 matches.

Trenton, N.J.—Jimmy Mac Millan, 144, Trenton, outpointed Earl Owens 136 Atlantic City 10.

Leicester, England — Joe Erskine 191½, Wales, outpointed Ulli Ritter, 196½ West Germany 10.

W. Virginia Wesleyan Defeats Steubenville

BUCKHANNON, W.Va. (AP)—West Virginia Wesleyan posted its seventh victory in nine games Tuesday night, edging Steubenville College 86-83 in an overtime. The teams were deadlocked 80-80 at the end of regulation play.

Four Bobcats Hit In Double Figures

Greenford Trips Vienna Five, 61-56, in Overtime Period

Greenford's up-and-down Bobcats were up last night and posted a 61-56 overtime victory over host Vienna.

The fray was tied 54-54 at the end of regulation time. Gary Wilt and Rich Arnold sparked the Bobcats to a 7-2 advantage in the overtime.

The victory was the fifth in 11 starts for Greenford. The Bobcats had defeated Vienna earlier in the season, 59-51. Vienna's record now shows six wins and eight losses.

GREENFORD JUMPED off to a 28-21 lead in the first half last night, but Vienna cut the margin to three points, 42-39, at the three-quarter mark and deadlocked the count in the final quarter.

The Bobcats then came through in the clutch to post the victory. Greenford had a well-balanced scoring attack. Four men hit in double figures. Dick Arnold led the way with 16 points. Bob Cook notched 14 while Harry Paulin and Clyde Shoff were each hooping 13.

Arnold and Cook also did a big job on the boards, pulling down 16 rebounds apiece.

FROM THE FLOOR, Greenford connected on 24 of 62 shots for a good 39 per cent. Vienna hit 23 for 66 for a percentage of 35.

A total of 15 personal fouls were called on Vienna and 11 on Green-ford. Two Vienna players fouled out. Jim McKittrick departed with one minute to go in the fourth quarter, and Tom Scott was forced to depart in the overtime period.

Greenford also won the reserve game from the Flyer Jayvees, 34-30.

The Bobcat junior high team was also in action yesterday, falling 29-10 to Lowellville in a game now played at Greenford.

Don't Stir Up Yanks, Angels' Cerv Warns

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Just don't stir 'em up. If you do, they'll knock your brains out."

Such was the succinct warning issued today by Bob Cerv, newly signed to the Los Angeles Angels of the American League.

The 34-year-old Cerv was speaking of the New York Yankees, for whom he played off and on for the past decade as he shuttled back and forth between the Kansas City Athletics to the New York club.

Cerv's reflections were seconded by little Albie Pearson, late of the Baltimore Orioles and the old Washington Senators, with whom he won "rookie of the year" honors in 1958.

Cerv flew in from his home in Kansas City and Pearson drove up from nearby Riverside for a news session attendant to their signing Tuesday.

Both said they were delighted to land in Los Angeles.

Cerv, 23 and 6-feet, was asked about the Yankees' chances minus Manager Casey Stengel.

"They'll still keep going. They've got four or five good key ball players," said Cerv.

He recalled the Yankees lost a crucial series in mid-summer at Baltimore. "The newspapers gave us a rough time. Real rough. You could just sense that the players (Yankees) were thinking, 'We'll see you fellows later.'"

So, he continued, the Orioles came to New York and lost four straight.

"That's why I say, don't stir 'em up. They'll kill you," Cerv concluded.

BALL SPEED: I have watched good bowlers throw slow, medium and fast balls. If you do want to barrel the ball with all your mortal fibre you have the following advantages:

1. Impress tender young girl spectators.
2. Break pins, forcing proprietor to buy new wood.
3. Embarrass weaker bowlers on adjacent alleys.
4. Increase possibility of breaking your Brunswick k ball and getting a brand new one on the lifetime guarantee.
5. Cut down on worrying time between release and contact with pins. This practically eliminates body english.
6. Time saved leaves more time for quaffing of ale after league play.

LITTLE LIZ

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm employed in the kitchen of a state institution and there's so much monkey business going on that I can't keep still any longer. This is not a special situation. I've worked in state institutions elsewhere and it's the same.

I've seen institution employees eat food gifts which were sent to patients and then deny they saw the package. I've watched employees take home roasts, chickens, cans of coffee and jar of fruit. Trays of crackers are hidden in the ovens because no one wants to count the out. Quarts of hot coffee, platters of crisp bacon and eggs, bowls of butter and stacks of bread disappear into employees' dressing rooms.

When the board of visitors come they are served filet mignon and fresh strawberry shortcake. Then they go home and tell everyone the food is great. No one ever pops in unexpectedly to see what REALLY is going on.

Don't tell me to report it. I tried this once and was laid off the following week. Something must be done from the top. — GOD HELP THE TAXPAYER.

Dear Friend: I consider your letter a public service. I'm sure many state institutions need cleaning up and such complaints as yours can help trigger action. The badly run institutions are an outrage in a country as well off as ours. It would be unfair, however, to accuse ALL state institutions of waste, incompetence and negligence.

You said: "No one ever pops in to see what REALLY is going on." In Ohio last year many newspapers printed a picture of Gov. DiSalle just after a surprise visit to a mental hospital in Columbus. What he saw had made him ill.

Ohio's state institutions under Gov. DiSalle have been vastly improved. Wisconsin, California and Michigan are among the better ones, too. Most states still have a long way to go.

Two Lucky Dogs

Dear Ann: I have a close friend who is a widow. She lives alone in a lavish apartment with her two pet poodles. The dogs have velvet pillows in their wicker baskets. They eat choice filets and she takes them to Florida every winter.

Her two daughters married against her wishes and now they are having a rough time financially. The mother never gives them a dollar. What do you think of this? —AN OBSERVER.

Dear Observer: It sounds as if the daughters treated their mother like a dog and now the dogs are being treated like daughters.

Friend In Need

Dear Ann: I am a 17-year-old girl who needs an outsider's opinion. I know this sounds terrible but my best friend got into trouble with a boy. She went with this fellow for a year and thought she was in love. Her folks sent her to a home for unwed mothers and she gave up her baby for adoption.

Now that she's home everyone has turned their backs on her. She needs friends more than ever but my folks don't want me to go with her. My mother says, "A leopard never changes its spots." Is she right? —CELE.

Dear Cele: Your girl friend isn't a leopard — she's human — and humans often change. She needs kindness at this time, now more than ever. I hope your folks will encourage you to continue the friendship.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Annual County Bee Report Submitted

William Marty of East Palestine, county apiary inspector, has submitted his yearly report to the Columbiana County commissioners for 1960.

He listed 399 apiaries which had 1,737 colonies. Of the total, 122 were winter killed, 11 colonies were queenless, 32 had American foul brood disease, five colonies, cross combed, and one, sac brood.

Elkrun Township had the most colonies with 222, and Liverpool the least with only 28 hives.

A breakdown of each township, including killed and diseased follows:

Unity — 191 colonies, 15 winter killed, 5 cross combed, 3 queenless and 5 AFB Middleton — 60 colonies, 4 winter killed, 1 AFB Fairfield — 165 colonies, 10 winter killed, 2 AFB Salem — 130 colonies, 7 winter killed, 1 sac brood, 1 queenless and 2 AFB.

Perry — 36 colonies, 3 AFB Liverpool — 28 colonies, 5 winter killed, 1 queenless St. Clair — 121 colonies, 19 winter killed, 2 queenless Madison — 109 colonies, 4 winter killed Elkrun — 222 colonies, 23 winter killed, 3 queenless.

Knox — 141 colonies, 3 winter killed Yellow Creek — 89 colonies, 8 winter killed, 2 AFB Franklin — 49 colonies West — 66 colonies, 5 winter killed Hanover — 117 colonies, 3 AFB, 1 queenless.

Butler — 62 colonies, 5 winter killed Washington — 69 colonies, 4 winter killed, 8 AFB Wayne — 71 colonies, 4 winter killed, and Center — 86 colonies, 6 winter killed.

Marty reported that AFB was on the upgrade last year but said it was due to beekeepers using old hives and not cleaning them out properly. AFB is a disease that kills the larvae before they become bees.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Eloquence has not entirely vanished from this beat of mine. I keep thinking of the fellow who set himself up in the union business as one might roll out a string of push carts with many cheap wears. When a New York state official questioned him recently, this merchant of unions retorted:

"You're a punk, a jerk, a perjurer and a liar."

Then the union's "general manager," Benjamin Ross, operator of some 10 "dummy" unions, also heightened the cultural content of a hearing before the New York State Labor Relations Board, by inviting opposing counsel to "come outside and I'll knock your brains out."

At one point in the hearings on Ross' privately run unions the board chairman, Jay Kramer called in the police to keep Ross' muscle under control.

Mr. Kramer, who pushes back quite strenuously when pushed around, refused to permit one of Ross' personal unions, Amalgamated Union Local 5, to control the employees of a small Manhattan restaurant.

THERE WERE many things about Ross which the labor board believes malodorous. There is, for example, Ross' police record—convictions from 1933 for stealing, second degree robbery, illegal possession of drugs, and assault.

What concerned Mr. Kramer was Ross' plans to use his Manhattan muscle for expansion of his labor enterprises across the country. He has plans, Ross has. He has turned his self-chartered unaffiliated Amalgamated Local Five into a "District Five" organization. The man would go West. He would charter 10 new locals under "Dis-

It is plain that Ross covers a wide range of industries, in a virtually unlimited geographical area," Kramer reported, "and that he is currently stepping up his organizational efforts...."

THIS NEW TYPE of labor business should fascinate every community across the land wherever there are small shops and stores. Here is Ross' technique, so all shall know: First he set up a dummy outfit known as Amalgamated Union Local 5. There were no locals one to four or six. Just "Five." Then he pushed around small shop owners. The National Labor Relation Board moved in. He went on to others.

He worked through a series of "affiliated locals," which Ross himself set up and then affiliated with himself. All had names similar to large national unions. He diversified indeed.

After turning Amalgamated Union Local 5 into District 5, he issued charters for the allied crafts union, the Bakery and Confectionery Workers Local 124 (no relation to the older union once in the AFL) a new Amalgamated Union Local 5, and the Amalgamated Union Local 5, Food, Packers and Service Employees.

EACH OF THESE "unions" can turn out other unions. The Amalgamated Union Local 5 for example, has a handy inventory of its own. Among its subsidiaries are the "Novelty Workers; the Iron and Miscellaneous Workers, Security Employees Automotive Service Employees Rental Service Employees and Plastic Workers."

All this was exposed when Ross was summoned before the labor board after he tried to move in on a little eatery called Aly's Hat Box. Cursading board chairman Kramer took a stand which should be known across the land wherever men with muscle push others around.

"We do this," said Kramer, "because we believe that democracy deserves, indeed demands, no less of this agency."

The board decided that dummy union "muscle and vituperation and reprehensible misconduct" have no place among free workers.
